Topic:

Energy Star Live Webinar: Office Buildings: Rating Energy Performance

In this training, you will learn how EPA's Portfolio Manager can help you evaluate the energy performance of office buildings you own, manage, or hold for investment. This training will cover creating a user account, identifying data requirements, managing and sharing information, and establishing an energy performance rating. The rating serves as a benchmark to compare the energy performance of your office building against similar ones across the nation. From a portfolio perspective, energy performance ratings provide valuable information for making decisions regarding investments in energy efficiency, developing energy management plans, and measuring improvement over time.

Who should participate: Property managers, energy managers, engineers, and organizational leaders interested in learning about energy performance benchmarking .
